ABOUT THE INSTITUTE

Madras Institute of Technology is one of the premier technical institutions started in the year 1949 by Shri. C. Rajam, an eminent industrialist. The institute was the result of a bold experiment in technical education as it introduced for the first time totally unconventional engineering courses such as Aeronautical Engineering, Automobile Engineering, Electronics Engineering and Instrumentation Engineering. It was merged with Anna University in the year 1978.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Information Technology was established in the year 2001 and offers B.Tech. and M.Tech. in Information Technology and Ph.D./M.S. (by research) programmes. The Department has sponsored projects from UGC, DOE, DIT, CDAC, ISRO, TCS, TEQIP and AICTE. The department organizes several Workshops, International Conference on Recent Trends in Information Technology (ICRTIT) and Faculty Development Programme for the welfare of society.

REPORT
PYTHON WORKSHOP

The Infosys campus connect has conducted three days workshop on "Python Programming" from 21.01.2016 to 23.01.2016. The Program was inaugurated by 10.00 a.m. We were provided with the welcome kit with notepad, pen, session plan, grouping sheet and file.

The Objective of the workshop is to impart knowledge in the area of Python programming. The session started by 10.15 am. The resource person, Mr. Roy Antony, Education and Research, Infosys handled the topics such as introduction to python programming, basics of python. The lecture covered environment, basic syntax, variable types, operators and loops. We had the hands on session on the basics.

In the afternoon session Mr. Roy Antony handled the special features such as Lists, Tuples, and Dictionaries. The lecture covers executing python programs in files and in python scripts. The session covered programs on tuples and list with hands on. After the session we were given with the group assignments for all the concepts of the day. We were asked to solve the assignments with the other group members from various other colleges.

On the second day 22.01.2016, we had Ms. Kalpana Balaraman, Education and Research, Infosys as the resource person. The morning session was about connection of database with python. She also gave a brief introduction on DB API such as Gadfly, MySQL, Sysbase, and Oracle. She gave idea on python integrated development environment available to run python.

The afternoon session was taken by Mr. Roy Antony on object oriented concepts in python. He explained the concepts of OOP and the way of achieving it with python programming. He gave quiz for the participants and evaluated. The real world application for the concept is delivered with "Easy shop application". The difference between python and other object oriented languages were explained. He also gave a brief idea of how the projects in real time were implemented in industry and the issues.

At the end of the session we were given with team activity for the database and object oriented programming concepts. We were given with assignments as demo, programming practice, assignments and quiz. We have solved the assignments and programs with our respective team members and submitted.
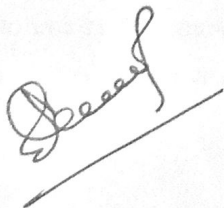

The third day 23.01.2016, we had Ms. Kalpana Balaraman for the lecture. She introduced us with the concepts of Common gateway interface programming in python and its application. She also showed us various examples which implements CGI. She gave us introduction to web server support, configuration, methods, and working with python.

She gave introduction to file handling in python programming with some hands on example with file operations such as read, write, delete etc.., We were provided ideas on tools, utilities and libraries of python.

The second session was handled by Mr. Roy Antony on the titles such as GUI programming and developing simple applications with graphical user interface. We were given simple programs on forms, and simple web pages. We were given a project in python and we were asked to present it as team.

The afternoon session was assessment of group activities and presentation of our project along with the team members. After the presentation, the valedictory function was started about 3.30 pm and the group activity results were announced. The certificates, prizes were distributed for the participants.

We express our sincere thankfulness to our management and our principal for permitting us to attend the workshop.

Yours faithfully,

1) A. Lilly (A . SINDHUJA/AP/IT)
2) Reena CR. Meena (AP/CSE)
